the poor victims were in their last agony, a man in a violent state of agitation and excitement knocked at the door and demanded instant admittance. The medical men were then trying to re-inflate the lungs of one of the sufferers by means of a very simple and most efficacious implement. "He must be let in," said Dr. X—; "he is evidently a relation of one of these poor things." So the door was opened, and with eager haste and excited tones the new-comer entered and exclaimed, "Now, mind you do not forget that the bellows belong to the green-rover."

CHARLESTON. WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 25, 1869.

The Proposed Third Party.

We have already noticed the fact that the Orangeburg News, the only respectable Radical paper in the State, is so far distinguished with the "corruption and iniquity" of the Radical party that it is willing to support any organization which pledges itself to universal suffrage and universal amnesty. By this our Orangeburg contemporary did not mean that it was inclined to allow the light of its countenance to fall upon the averted faces of the Democrats of the State. On the contrary, it said that what it meant by universal suffrage was that everybody should be permitted to "vote and hold office." This was Radical enough for a penitent Republican; but the Orangeburg News has slightly changed its direction, and in its last issue prints a stirring appeal on the subject of the proposed "Third Party." The article to which we refer will be found in another column. It is a cry to the Democrats of South Carolina to reorganize as a Conservative Republican party, so that the virtue of Carolina may be introduced into the Republican ranks and "FIGHT AWAY WITH THE DIGNITY OF PURITY ITS ELEMENTS OF WEAKNESS AND VICE." Our Orangeburg contemporary is as emphatic as could be desired in condemning "the corrupt (Radical) representatives, who fill, to a great degree, the offices of our government." And yet it urges the people of the State to form beneath the Republican banner, and "so further their own material interests." In other words, the Democracy of the State are to act as a deodorizer or disinfectant to keep Radicalism and its corruption from stinking longer in the nostrils of honest men. They are to further their material interests by joining a party which has done its best to ruin our people, and which, unless we shorn it up, will soon tumble to the ground. It will, we presume, hardly be denied, even by the thorough-paced Radicals, that ninety-nine out of a hundred of the South Carolina white men are Democrats or anti Radicals. This is the important element to be considered in all "Third Party" calculations. Upon the negroes a Conservative movement would produce little effect. Throughout the State the machinery of the Union League would be employed to drive the colored people to the polls and to prevent them from tampering with the compromise party. The out-and-out Radicals would bid far higher than the boasted Republicans could do, and when election day came it would be found that the mass of the colored men voted with the whites who had stumped most nearly to the negro level. A large number of colored men would vote the Conservative ticket; but they would do so out of the abundance of their confidence in the white Democrats who were connected with it, and not because it was a compromise or coalition. These very colored men would vote a straightforward Democratic ticket as readily as they would vote the new nondescript offered to them. It seems, then, to us, that in aiming at the foundation of a third party the chief object of the Orangeburg News and those who think with it, is to effect an union of the white Democrats and respectable Republicans. As we have said, there is but a handful of respectable white Republicans in South Carolina. In what way are they so strong that they can reasonably ask 50,000 white Democrats to abandon their political allegiance, and become members of the party against which they have been fighting for eight long years? We confess that we do not see a single stout plank in the platform of Conservative Republicanism. The respectable white Democrats are strong. They have numbers, organization, money, patronage, and impediments unbounded. But the respectable Republicans have no strength—in their party or out of it. The Orangeburg News, which we treat now as the representative of the small squad of decent Republicans, admits that the Radical party is disorganizing in consequence of the knavery and ignorance of its members. It admits that the Radical party cannot be reformed without the healing presence of the white Democrats. And it believes, we are inclined to think, that no matter how strong the infusion of white respectability, there will still be a large party, which, refusing to be made respectable, will struggle, tooth and nail, against anything which is not concentrated Radicalism. The truth is that the respectable Republicans in the State find that they will be disgraced if they remain in connection with our Scots and Mokeys and Bowsens; but they know that they can do nothing unless they can oust the Democracy into making common cause with them. This is already conceived; but we say that, Mahomet must come to the mountain, for the mountain will not go to Mahomet. We appreciate the glories of Republicanism; but it is an absurdity for one man to ask ninety-nine of his political opponents to become converts to his creed, because if they do not this solitary warrior will be ruined and undone. The open man should join the ninety-nine; the respectable Republicans must either join the Democratic party or continue to grovel in the slams and stews of Radicalism. The Orangeburg News says that the Democratic party has an unfortunate though a favorite name; and that the people of the State should "write the petty prejudice to" (Republican name and accept the facts "asserted by the Republican party," which is the old story; the many must give way to the few. And does the Orangeburg News pause to think what this name, this Republicanism, means in the ears of every Carolina? The name of Radical and Republican are abhorred by our people.
